We are collecting Humane Society donations this week. The class with the most donations gets a Casual Day!

In science, the students are working on their Weather Research Question.

The students have told me that they love the new things that we have been doing in Reading Worshop. My trip to New York is paying off!!

In math, the students will be working on odd and even numbers and their chapter test will be Friday. They should know place value, greater and less than, equal to, and skip counting.

Along with our minilessons in Reading, we will reading If You Give a Pig a Pancake. The strategy we will work on is Question.

In Phonics, we will be doing a long vowel review and the students will take their assessments on Thursday and Friday

Thank you to all the families that donated items for the Auction. I hope to see all of you there Saturday night!

The new spelling words are: went, sent, ant, bend, find, mind, kind, want, because, and animal.
