

Work For The Week Of March 1 - 5

Reading - Genre: Nonfiction Salmon Summer pgs. 634 - 647

Reading Writing Workshop - Hope's Crossing. We will finish this book on Monday and will start the book entitled, Family Vacation Malfunction. This book is lighter in material. Humor is good for a change!

Read aloud book is Fudgemia

English- Regular and Irregular Verbs also Verb Phrases pgs. 336 - 343

Word Study- Three Syllable Words
Test- Friday, March 5.

Social Studies- Reviewing Lesson 3 and 4 of the Federal Govt. The children are very familiar with this material. We have been reviewing a lot. They are ready for this test. Test is Tuesday, March 2.
Also, reviewing chapter 9 in Social Studies Alive.
Test is on Thursday, March 4.

Religion- Chapter 18- Beatitudes (Happy are They...)
I want the children to memorize the Beatitudes along with knowing the regular material for the test. We will have the test on Tuesday, March 16 or possibly on Wednesday, March 17.

Math- Chapter 8- Two digit divisors. Dividing by multiples of ten and dividing money. Pgs. 330 -332.

Science- How Matter Changes From One State to Another
We are using the text pgs. B 8 - B 11. Also, I have information off the web.

Dear Parent,

The children and I are working very hard. I am proud of their hard work, however, some need to look over their work before handing it in. Some are forgetting their names and making careless mistakes.

Music recital is on Thursday, March 4, at Cantrick School. The children have been practicing for me . They are very good!
See you on Thursday.
Have a great weekend!

Respectfully,
Mrs. Focht
