

Kindergarten News

Dear Parents,

This promises to be an exciting week for us! Today we met Ms. P with her "pointy patches". Our lessons will center around things that begin with P - polar animals, penguins, popcorn and pretzels, to name a few. Please remember to send a pair of mittens to school with your child tomorrow for our mitten math and science activities. It can be his/her own pair or one borrowed from a family member. Gym will also be tomorrow.

On Friday, January 15th, we will all wear our pajamas to school for Pajama Day. Slippers may be brought in bookbags and put on after arriving at school. A favorite stuffed animal or teddy bear may join our celebration. Our Room Mothers have made arrangements for a special "bedtime" snack that day.

Today is the end of the second quarter. Report cards will be sent home on Friday.

Please remember next Monday, January 18th, there is no school in observance of Martin Luther King, Jr. Day. Enjoy the long weekend!

Sincerely,

Mrs. Pultcr