Dear Parents,

I want to thank you again for helping your child design and build the leprechaun traps. They were ingenious! We had so much fun with them!!!! They brought them home on St. Patrick's Day in hopes of catching a leprechaun in their houses, too. I did not hear of any captures, but it sure was fun trying!!

We met Letter Light "E" today who has lots of "exercise energy". She will help us learn about eggs and prepare for Easter. Math and social studies will be integrated this week as we look at money and discuss the differences between needs and wants, goods and services and participate in trade. We will continue to work on decoding skills as we read and write. Gym will be on Thursday.

Thank you for your generous response to the Humane Society drive. The box in our room was overflowing! The eighth grade girls picked everything up after school on Friday and delivered the donations.

The kindergartners are really enjoying the Book Club Program. They are doing a wonderful job! They like picking out their own books. Thank you for your continued support of the program. They are becoming good readers!

Have a good week!

Mrs. Pulter
